Find a coordinate independent expression for the distance between two points and then evaluate it in rectangular coordinates.