1 Data reading challenge

The challenge for this week is to write a python program to read data for the PH 411 Lab 4 and create the firt two plots. If you have your own data you may use that. Otherwise you can download and use the data from Reading and plotting data.